

Name : .....

Class : .....

Instructions: Underline the interjection word in each sentence.

- Wow! That giant hot air balloon looks amazing up in the sky.
- Ouch! A sharp thorn pricked my thumb while I was picking roses.
- Yay! Our school is organizing a trip to the science museum.
- Shh! Speak softly because the students are writing their test.
- Oh no! The wind blew away the papers from the study table.
- Ah! Now I know the correct path to reach the library.
- Alas! The old wooden birdhouse fell from the tree branch.
- Yuck! This sour soup smells terrible and tastes bad.
- Oh! I did not know that you bought a new bicycle.
- Hurrah! Our team won the first position in the debate contest.
- Wow! The fireworks look so bright in the dark night sky.
- Ouch! The hot handle of the pan burned my fingertips.
- Yay! My uncle gave me a beautiful set of color pencils.
- Shh! Walk quietly through the corridor so nobody gets disturbed.
- Oh no! I accidentally spilled water on my new textbook.
- Alas! The little stray puppy ran away before I could feed it.
- Yuck! There is green mold growing on this piece of bread.
- Oh! Look at that colorful butterfly sitting on the yellow flower.
- Hurrah! We finally completed our science project on time.
- Wow! You did an excellent job on this drawing.